

Informal and Formal Writing

Some words are fine for informal conversations and discussions. For formal writing, however, they should not be used.

Informal example: Her dad worked at a factory.

Formal example: Her father worked at a factory.

The word dad is used in a familiar way, which makes it sound informal. Father is a better word to use in formal writing.

Below are sentences that have informal words in them. Circle the informal word or words and rewrite the sentence in a formal style.

1) They bought an awesome house around the corner.

_____

2) There were lots of people at the museum.

_____

3) Jane ain't going to tell anyone.

_____

4) Oscar started freaking out about the test.

_____

5) When the cops arrived, the crook ran outside.

_____

6) He checked his cell for any messages.

_____

7) The family chilled by the pool all afternoon.

_____

8) She bought a bunch of stuff at the mall.

_____